

Corps x2

The diagram illustrates the body plan of a beetle, divided into two main sections: the thorax (top) and the abdomen (bottom). The thorax is labeled 'Corps x2' and is outlined in red. The abdomen is a large oval shape, also outlined in red, and is divided vertically by a blue line. The wings are located on the thorax, with one pair on the left and one pair on the right. The text 'Ailes : 1 dessus gauche 1 dessous gauche' is written on the left side of the thorax, and 'Ailes : 1 dessus droit 1 dessous droit' is written on the right side of the thorax.
