

13th China-Shanghai International Symposium on Qigong Science
& Academic Conference of the 30th Anniversary of
Shanghai Qigong Research Institute
(Conference Notice)

On the 30th anniversary of Shanghai Qigong Research Institute, in order to carry forward traditional Chinese qigong, strengthen the international academic communication, improve qigong medical level, and broaden the scope of qigong scientific research to serve the healthcare of the mankind more extensively, approved by related divisions, sponsored by Shanghai University of Traditional Chinese Medicine, Shanghai Academy of Traditional Chinese Medicine, organized by Shanghai Qigong Research Institute, and assisted by Shanghai Administration Centre of Healthcare Qigong, Shanghai Healthcare Qigong Association and Medical Qigong Hospital of Hebei Province, 13th China-Shanghai International Symposium on Qigong Science & Academic Conference of the 30th Anniversary of Shanghai Qigong Research Institute will be held in Shanghai in 2015. Now, the announcement on related matters is given in the following.

I. Time: July 30~August 1, 2015. Registration: July 30; formal meeting: July 31~August 1.

II. Venue: Shanghai, China

III. Subject: Qigong • Health • Harmony

IV. Main Contents:

1. Presentations of academic paper
2. Skills instruction by Chinese qigong masters
3. Presentations of healthcare qigong skills
4. Skill presentations by foreign quests

V. Collection of Theses

1. Clinical Application and Study of Medical Qigong
 - (1) Summary of clinical experience of medical qigong in the prevention and treatment of commonly encountered diseases of various systems, geriatric diseases and other difficult and intractable diseases
 - (2) Mechanism study on clinical effects of medical qigong
2. Study on healthcare qigong
 - (1) Concept and theoretical study on healthcare qigong
 - (2) Study on effects and mechanism of healthcare qigong
3. Experimental study on qigong
 - (1) Study on functional status of qigong
 - (2) Study on physical, psychological, biochemical and immune effects in qigong practice
- (3) Study on biophysics and physical effects of qigong
4. Study on skill methods and literature of traditional qigong
 - (1) Study on skill methods, theories and literature of traditional qigong
 - (2) Study on the relationship between qigong and traditional Chinese culture
5. Study on other traditional internal regimen methods

VI. Related Matters on Theses Collection:

1. Only one piece of thesis will be recruited from each first author.
2. Each piece of thesis should be no more than 5000 printing marks.
3. Theses can be written in Chinese, Japanese or English language. But, the abstract in Chinese or English language is requested in no more than 1000 printing marks.
4. The theses are not limited in writing style but must be printed clearly by computer and submitted with electronic file.
5. Theses written in a language other than Chinese shall be attached with Chinese title and abstract.
6. No request for returning the theses will be acceptable, if the theses are not recruited.
7. Period for collection of theses: December 1, 2014 to March 31, 2015

Mailing Address: Mrs Shang
Room 307
Shanghai Qigong Research Institute
No. 650 Wan Ping Nan Lu
Shanghai 200030
P. R. China

Fax number: 86-21-64383936

E-mail: shqigong@126.com

VI. Symposium Fee:

1. Registration Fee: RMB 1000 per participant.
2. Expenses for boarding and lodging and traveling expenses are bore by the participants.

VII. Registration Procedure:

The participants are requested to mail the completed registration form (duplication acceptable) to the following address before March 31, 2015:

Mrs Zhu
Secretariat
13th Shanghai International Symposium on Qigong Science
Room 307
Shanghai Qigong Research Institute
No. 650 Wan Ping Nan Lu
Shanghai 200030
P. R. Chin

Preparatory Committee
13th China-Shanghai International Symposium on Qigong
December 1, 2014